"time-until" outcomes (survival times) are common in biomedical research. 2. survival times are often right-skewed. 3. often a fraction of the times are right-censored. 4. the kaplan-meier estimator can be used to estimate and display the distribution of survival times. 5. life tables are used to combine information across age groups. the mean, median, and confidence intervals of the kaplan ... - restrict the calculation of the mean to a specific time. stata provides an option to compute the mean using an extrapolation of the survival distribution described in brown, hollander, and korwar (1974). 3. example kaplan-meier estimates and summary statistics were pre-pared using the following fictitious survival time data, with the 18meta-analysis in stata tm - biostatistics - departments - "core" stata package, but are all user-written "add-ons" which are freely available on the internet. in order to perform meta-analyses in stata, these routines need to be installed on your computer by downloading the relevant files from the stata web site (stata). see box 18.1 for detailed instructions on how to do this.
